

TRAVELLING FROM THE U.S. TO CANADA BY AIR? TRAVEL RESTRICTIONS IN EFFECT

The Government of Canada has restrictions in place for passengers coming into Canada from the U.S.

Only Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and in limited cases, certain foreign nationals are able to enter Canada by air at this time. Non-essential or optional travel is not allowed.

No passenger who is symptomatic of COVID-19, regardless of citizenship, will be allowed to fly.

Requirements for Air Travel

The Government of Canada has introduced a number of measures to limit the spread of COVID-19 and ensure the safety of air travel:

- Requiring passengers to wear a non-medical mask or face covering at all times throughout their entire travel journey.
- Conducting health checks and temperature screenings of all passengers before boarding.
- Requiring passengers to digitally submit their travel plan, contact information, and quarantine plan before their flight (unless exempt under conditions set out in the Mandatory Isolation Order) using ArriveCAN*. Violating any instructions provided to you when you enter Canada is an offence under the Quarantine Act and could lead to up to six months in prison and/or $750,000 in fines.
- Implementing additional federal, provincial or territorial measures at passengers' destinations.

Passengers who provide false or misleading information or refuse to wear a non-medical mask or face covering when directed could face fines.

Allowed

Non-symptomatic passengers who are:

- Canadian citizens
- Permanent residents
- Registered Indians under the Indian Act
- Protected persons under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act
- Foreign nationals transiting through Canada
- Foreign nationals determined by the Chief Public Health Officer to be providing an essential service while in Canada
- Foreign nationals travelling for essential or non-optional purposes
- Foreign nationals travelling for authorized compassionate reasons*
- Foreign nationals travelling to reunite with an immediate or extended family member* who is a Canadian citizen or permanent resident (with documentation) or a person registered under the Indian Act, and who can demonstrate their intention to stay in Canada for a period of at least 15 days
- Foreign nationals authorized by the Deputy Minister of Canadian Heritage to enter Canada as a high-performance athlete taking part in or a person engaging in an essential role in relation to an international single sport event, if the athlete or the person is affiliated with a national organization responsible for that event
- Attending a designated institution (students must have a valid study permit)

Not Allowed

Passengers who are:

- Symptomatic for COVID-19, those who have been refused boarding in the past 14 days due to a medical reason related to COVID-19, or are subject to a provincial, territorial or local public health order
- Refusing to answer questions related to the health check, refusing to have their temperature taken, or refusing to comply with an instruction given by a gate agent, airport security screening personnel, or a crew member with respect to wearing a non-medical mask or face covering
- Foreign nationals who cannot comply with the 14 day mandatory quarantine and do not meet one of the approved exceptions to mandatory quarantine*
- Foreign nationals travelling for non-essential or optional reasons who are not reuniting with an immediate or extended family member* who is a Canadian citizen or permanent resident
- Foreign nationals entering Canada for compassionate reasons* that have not been authorized by the Public Health Agency of Canada
- Foreign nationals transiting through Canada with a layover of more than 24 hours

Important: Please note that all passengers, with a few approved exceptions*, must undergo a mandatory quarantine or isolation period of 14 days upon arrival in Canada, regardless of whether or not they have symptoms of COVID-19. Failure to comply could lead to imprisonment and/or fines.

No person should board a flight if feeling ill as they could potentially put others at risk. In addition, should symptoms such as a fever, cough or difficulty breathing develop while in flight, please notify the flight crew immediately.
